Website updates

We are very excited to launch a brand new gallery - Oak Island Ghosts. During the recent EOID weekend, a spate of photos were taken which featured strange orb-like light sources. Many believe this phenomena to be an essence of spiritual energy, adding a fascinating new dimension to the mystery. Take a look at the amazing photos and judge for yourself:

We can also report the addition of a new gallery showing aerial photos of Oak Island:

Finally, the winner of last month's t shirt competition was Mr Petter Amundsen from Norway. Thanks to everyone who entered, and in case you are still wondering, the answer to the question, 'in which year was the Money Pit discovered' was 1795, but I'm sure you all knew that!

Still desperate to get your hands on your own t shirt? Why not order one for just $20, including P&P. For more details visit the online shop:
